I can't stand watching this corrupted media tube anymore. Hilary Clinton is Bush all over again, she wants to go to war with Iran and start WW3, and don't think Obama is any different. Don't you think it's kind of strange that either a Clinton or a Bush has been president since i've been alive. All the candidates have the same foreign policy. Why should we be the police of the world what makes us so special that we can just walk into countries and punk thier military just because they might have nukes. WE HAVE NUKES AND WE ARE THE TERRORIST. We say we are at a War on Terror, but hold up Terror is a tactic it's not a country or a person, so it's just an excuse to stay in a neverending war. If you think Hilary or Obama or any of these candidates are going to change anything you're wrong. Our presidents are picked by the media they pick the frontrunners and just brainwash us by showing just them over and over again. As for Iraq goes what's our reason for staying there, because if we leave they will attack us? THEY DONT HAVE AN ARMY,NAVY, or AIR FORCE. We are only making things worse by being over there how many babys do we have to kill before we realize we are in the wrong? We have one chance left and that's Ron Paul people better start waking up to this or we and our kids will be paying for it later.

The media picks presidents? We're brainwashed? That explains alot.

This is a product of Tracy schools.

Why don't you jump on I-5 and drive about 500 miles south and stay there, oh, and try not to get pulled over.

might not be just a product of Tracy schools...it's the generation. I am from the Tracy school district (as a student) and I darn sure don't think like the little narcissist MikeD. He'll be whining when he gets older...he's definitely got 9th district leanings...ah well, what can you do but shake your head at folks like this...
